Hi Paul,

I think this is what you have asked for. Could we get your final approval and ensure that the overall Incident Command (Russell) approves and we will ensure the briefers officially push this plan out to the teams.

We already have teams out there and making it work but need this formalized ASAP.

Currently today, all briefings are at central after everyone is shuttled from their station.

As of tomorrow morning, everyone will be reporting themselves to [REDACTED] on 3 briefing times (0600, 1300 and 2100). They will all be deployed from there by bus to the [REDACTED] zones. We have made arrangements for a supply of PONS to be available at [REDACTED] as well as a total of [REDACTED] cruisers to be deployed in each zone when deploying from [REDACTED]. (we are struggling with getting available cruisers but working on it)

Thanks

Rob
